Mr. W. B. Lassiter of Vernon, who has some property here, was here this week with a view of either selling or giving away his place, but after seeing the improvement being made here, he decided to fix up his place and rent it.

Volume 1, No. 1 of the Florida Record is on our table; it is published by J. S. Gardner, formerly of the Times-Courier of Marianna, and is edited by J. E. Gardner. The Record is a new venture in paperdom, published here. We wish it success.

It is with regret that we are called upon to chronicle the death of Mrs. Frank Blount of Dundee, Ala. She was burned to death last Monday, her clothes having caught by accident. Deceased is a grand daughter of Mrs. C. J. Whitehurst of this place.

It was a genuine pleasure to see Hon. Wallace Bruce stand just outside of the Tabernacle at DeFuniak last Saturday, and watch his countenance as the old U. C. V's. passed out. He had a pleasant smile, a kind word and a good wish for all. Long may he live.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—S. D. MEARLE, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford Co. Pa. For sale by Patrick Bros.

SPECIAL NOTICE! To those who are unable to pay, and are suffering with any affliction for which the "Great Healer" is recommended, can, by applying to me at my office in the Patrick drug store, have the benefit of my great discovery FREE.

COMMUNICATED. Pine Flat, Fla., Feb. 23, '90.

Mr. Editor: I would have written you a letter before this but Sarah Ann says I'm so slow I let all the good things pass my notice until too late for mention; according to what she says I reckon I would not make very much of a journalist.

Things are all quiet in Pine Flat. Our farmers are quite busy now preparing to plant, but all badly behind and greatly discouraged; the low price of cotton and high prices of necessities and scarcity of labor has almost stopped the wheels of progress.

We often ruminated about this fast age of enterprise and push, and feel like I am entirely too slow for this age of progress. I have a near neighbor who has convinced me that times are not what they used to be. He says when we look back to the good old times when everything seemed so cheerful and nothing was so badly blighted by snow and low cotton, we felt more at home, had less debts to pay and more to pay them with, than in these times of depression and anxiety in every branch of business.

A few years ago in early spring we were cheered by the sweet warble of the mockingbird about our window, and in the open field could hear about every stump the cheering nestle of the blue bird, and in early morn could hear echoing from the distant hills the sound of the clanking bells as the herds quietly grazed upon the exuberant green grass of the Pine Flat.

Back in my own memory almost any morning I could hear the foot of the huntsman's horn and yelp of the deer hound, and could often see from the field the deer bounding so gracefully ahead of the dogs, making their way to the distant swamp of Holmes Creek. On one occasion Capt. McMillan and Col. Horne were out here in Pine Flat on a hunt, and in a short time each killed two deer, which gave rise to a piece of poetry, written by Mr. Ed. Blacksher of Marianna. I preserved the clipping for a long time but it got misplaced and I can only give the following lines from memory:

I'll acquaint all persons far and near, That Col. Horn has killed two deer; Capt. McMillan with deadly aim, Was in the hunt and did the same.

Those times, my neighbor refers to as better times than these, because he loved to hunt and there was something to hunt; and all nature seemed more inviting to the eye of the tourist; and our forest had not felt the destructive power of the saw mill.

OLD SLOW.

A GOOD WOMAN GONE. Last Wednesday evening, near Shady Grove church, our community was shocked by the sad death of Mrs. Amanda Williams, wife of W. D. Williams, and mother of William and Bessie Williams, of Chipley.

Mrs. Williams was a faithful member of Shady Grove Baptist church for a number of years, and was ever ready to do God's work. She was about 55 years of age. She leaves a husband, two sons and one daughter, and a host of friends to mourn the loss; she was a faithful wife and affectionate mother.

We do not sorrow as those who have no hope, for we believe we will meet her again in that better land where there is no parting and death. We will not be parted long; with unwavering faith we can say: Blessed are those that die in the Lord; the Lord says and the Lord hath taken her away. Bless the name of the Lord, we cannot bring her back, but we can go to her. Yes she is gone where Jesus' own soft hands shall wipe the tears from every eye, and pains and groans and grief and fears, and death itself shall die.

FROM "ORPHAN'S HOME," March 20, 1899.

Mr. Editor: I think maybe you will not mind hearing from this "Orphan's home," so I will try and give you a short letter; of course it will not be very interesting I don't suppose, but I just want to express my feelings toward our neighbors for the kindness they have shown us; but I will first tell how we are situated. The manager of this home has been sick for quite a while, and I am unable at this writing, to discover any improvement, but we hope for things when the weather gets warmer; our doctor talks encouraging to us, and I think we have as good Dr. as this country can afford. All the other members of the home are enjoying good health now, and we are making very good progress to be undergoing so many benedictions; of course things do not go so smoothly with the proprietor sick, and unable to see after the business, and we often get lonely and dull, but when our friends come to see us we feel better, for their coming seems to us like angel visits. Our friends and neighbors have been very generous and kind to us, and we appreciate it very much, and offer them our tenderest thanks.

FOR RENT. I have for rent a good two-horse farm; will rent all, or part; only short distance from town; good terms. Call on or apply to A. LINTON, Chipley, Fla.

FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN. A good four-room house and lot in the center of town; good well water, etc. For full information apply here.

Common Sense Teaches any one.

That the merchant who sells for CASH, and turns his money over often, can afford to sell goods at a very much lower price than one who sells on credit, and necessarily makes the good customers pay the loss on the other fellow.
